This seaside province is located in the Andaman Sea. The province is full of white sandy beaches, crystal clear seawater, beautiful islands, verdant forest with caves, and waterfalls, including more than 100 offshore islands.

Krabi is located 814 kilometres from Bangkok, covering an area of 4,708 square kilometres. From archaeological discoveries, it is believed that Krabi was one of the oldest communities in Thailand dating from the prehistoric period. It is also believed that Krabi was once the town of Ban Thai Samo, one of 12 royal cities that used a monkey as the town symbol. Krabi was a dependency town of the Nakhon Si Thammarat Kingdom. Another legend indicates that the town may have taken its name after the meaning of Krabi, which means sword. This may have stemmed from a legend that says an ancient sword was unearthed prior to the city's founding. Later, the sword became a symbol of Krabi.

The province consists of mountains, hills, plains, and mangrove forests, including more than 130 large and small islands. Krabi town has a 5-metre-long river, which flows through town and ends at the Andaman Sea in Tambon Pak Nam. There are several canals in Krabi including Khlong Pakasai (คลองปากสาย), Khlong Krabi Yai (คลองกระบี่ใหญ่) and Khlong Krabi Noi (คลองกระบี่น้อย), all of them originate from Phanom Bencha mountain range, the highest mountain range in Krabi.

Krabi is administratively divided into 8 Amphoes (districts): Amphoe Muang, Khao Phanom, Khlong Thom, Plai Phraya, Lanta, Ao Luk, Lam Thap, and Nua Khlong.

HOW TO GET THERE

By Car

CITY ATTRACTIONS

Khao Khanap Nam (เขานาน้ำ) are actually two 100-metre-high mountains, paralleling the Krabi River are considered the symbol of the town. They are accessible within 15 minutes by taking a long-tail boat from Chao Fa Pier (ท่าเจ้าฟ้า), the main pier in Krabi town. Take the stairs to see stalactite and stalagmite formations in the cave where plenty of human fossils were found. It was assumed that those fossils belong to immigrants who died from instant inundation.

Hat Noppharat Thara-Mu Ko Phi Phi National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาตินพรัตน์ธารา-หมู่เกาะพีพี) covers Tambon Nong Tha Le, Tambon Sai Thai, Tambon Ao Nang, and Tambon Pak Nam. Major attractions include:

Hat Noppharat Thara (หาดนพรัตน์ธารา) is a soft white sandy beach located 17 kilometres from the town. The nearly 3-kilometre long beach is paved with tiny seashells. The beach was formerly called "Hat Khlong Haeng" (หาดคลองแห้ง) by locals, which means dried canal beach.

Flowing from the upper part of the mountain, water in the canal will dry up during low tide and the area turns into a long beach that meets with the beach at Ko Khao Pak Khlong (เกาะเขาปากคลอง). Accommodation is available. For more information, contact the National Park Office at tel. (075) 637200.

Ao Nang (อ่าวนาง) is located some 6 kilometres from Noppharat Thara Beach. The area possesses a large bay with scenic beaches and 83 small islands. A number of hotels and bungalows are available. It is surrounded by striking limestone mountains. A boat service to the bays in the east of Ao Nang is available. At Hat Rai Le (หาดไร่เล) and Hat Tham Phra Nang (หาดถ้ำพระนาง) there are stalactite and stalagmite formations to be seen and exciting cliff activities can be done. Some of the islands are shaped like a boot, a sampan and a bird's head, depending on one's creative imagination. Most of the islands have Yawi names. Spectacular islands with scenic beaches where snorkelling and where diving for coral reefs can be done are Ko Po Da (เกาะปอดะ), Ko Mo (เกาะหม้อ), and Ko Thap (เกาะทัพ).

Susan Hoi or Fossils Shell Beach (สุสานหอย) is located on the beach of Ban Laem Pho and 17 kilometres from Krabi town along the route to Noppharat Thara Beach. At Ban Sai Thai, look for a Susan Hoi road sign. The area was a large swamp of numerous shells, the 2-centimetre freshwater snails in particular. When the continental shelf shifted, seawater flowed into the swamp, resulting in limestone that is in the seawater coating the shells below until they became as one. The finished product is a hard rock called shelly limestone that is about 40 centimetres thick. When the land here rose, a magnificent fossils shell beach emerged and stretched out to the sea. According to geologists, it is believed that Susan Hoi is 40 million years old.

Mu Ko Phi Phi (หมู่เกาะพีพี) is an archipelago of six islands located at an equal distance of 42 kilometres from both Krabi and Phuket, consisting of Ko Phi Phi Le, Ko Phi Phi Don, Ko Bi Da Nok, Ko Bi Da Nai, Ko Yung, and Ko Plai. It is situated on the ship route between Krabi and Phuket.

Attractions on Mu Ko Phi Phi

Ko Phi Phi Le (เกาะพีพีเล) is a lovely island that covers an area of only 6.6 square kilometres. It is surrounded by limestone mountains and high hills with jutting cliffs. The sea is 20 metres deep and the deepest point in the south of the island is around 34 metres. Ko Phi Phi Le offers superb scenic bays such as Ao Pi Le (อ่าวปิเล), Ao Maya (อ่าวมาหยา), and Ao Lo Sa Ma (อ่าวละซามะ). In the northeast of the island is Tham Viking (ถ้ำไวกิ้ง). This large cave was renamed "Tham Phaya Nak" or Serpent Cave by His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej because of a stone resembling the mythical creature, which His Majesty saw when he paid a visit here in 1972. The cave is considered sacred to locals who come here to collect swallow nests. Inside the eastern and southern parts of the cave are ancient colour paintings of elephants and various types of boats, including an Arabian sailboat, a European sailboat, a sampan, a Chinese junk, and a steamboat. It is believed the paintings were the works of sea merchants or pirates because the study of west-to-east ship routes indicates that this area may have been a stopover for boats seeking shelter from storms, transferring cargo or making repairs.

Ko Phi Phi Don (เกาะพีพีดอน) has Laem Tong (Tong cape) in the northern part of the island. The cape is home to around 15-20 sea gypsy families. Most of them migrated from Ko Li Pe in Satun. Moreover, Laem Tong offers beautiful marine nature. Diving can be done as well at Laem Hua Raket, Hat Yao and Hin Phae. A number of accommodations are available on two of the most beautiful bays, Ao Ton Sai (อ่าวตันไทร), and Ao Lo Da Lam (อ่าวโลดาสลัม).

Ko Yung (เกาะยุง) is north of Ko Phi Phi Don. The island has a stone beach in the east and small sandy beaches amid valleys. It is teeming with various kinds of colourful coral reefs.

Ko Phai (เกาะไผ่) is north of Ko Phi Phi Don and not far from Ko Yung. Marvellous beaches are in the north and east of the island. The bank of coral reefs with antler corals, in particular, stretches from north to south of the island. The best time to visit Phi Phi Island is during the monsoon-free season, which is from November to April.

How to get to Ko Phi Phi

Ko Phi Phi is accessible from Krabi and Phuket.

Krabi

During a tourist season, a ferry from Tha Chao Fa Pier is operated 5 times daily to Ko Phi Phi at 9.00, 10.30, 13.30, 14.30 and 16.00.

A ferry from Ko Phi Phi to Krabi is operated at 09.00 and 13.00 daily. The fare is 250 baht per person. The trip takes around 2 hours and a half. A one-day trip on a speedboat is available on Ao Nang. The trip starts from 09.00 to 17.00. Contact tel. (075) 637152-3 for more information.

Phuket

A one-day boat trip around Ko Phi Phi is available from Phuket. For more information contact tour operators in Phuket.

Trips to the surrounding islands can be made in a long-tail boat, which is available on Ao Ton Sai, Ko Phi Phi Don.

Tham Sua Khao Kaeo-Ao Luk Thanu Meditation Centre (สำนักวิปัสสนาถ้ำเสือเขาแก้ว, อ่าวลูกธนู) is at Ban Tham Sua in Tambon Krabi Noi. It is can be reached by driving along Si Trang road and turn left to Ratsadon Phatthana road for 9 kilometres. The "Tham Sua" (Sua cave) is so named because in front of the cave that opens onto Ao Luk Thanu mountain range (or Khao Kaeo), there used to be a large tiger living there and inside the cave is a rock formation in the shape of a tiger's paw. The surrounding area is a jungle forest of large trees aged hundreds of years in Khiri Wong valley. Numerous small caves are found, including Tham Kon Than, Tham Lot, Tham Chang Kaeo, Tham Luk Thanu, and Tham Phra. This is an interesting archaeological site dating from prehistoric times and early historic times. During excavations, stone tools, earthenware and earthen amulets were discovered. The area offers a bush walking trail and a hilltop lookout that can be reached by climbing 1,272 steps.

Tham Sadet (ถ้ำเสด็จ) is in Nong Ngok village, Tambon Sai Thai, 7 kilometres from Krabi town. The villagers named it to mark the visit of King Rama IV (before he ascended to the throne). The cave features marvellous stalactite and stalagmite formations.

Sa Kaeo (สระแก้ว) is located amid a forest in Tambon Khao Thong, 28 kilometres from the town, and along Krabi-Nai Sa route.

Sa Kaeo comprises 8 natural ponds including Sa Nam Lot, Sa Choeng Khao, Sa Chorakhe Khao, Sa Nam Thip, Sa Nam Kham, Sa Morakot, Sa Hun Kaeng, and Sa Noi.

Namtok Huai To (น้ำตกห้วยโต) is in Tambon Thap Prik, along Si Trang and Pracha Uthit roads. The eleven-level waterfall originates from the Phanom Bencha mountain range, each level possessing a natural crystal clear water basin. Some of the levels are called Wang Thewada, Wang Sok and Wang Chan.

AMPHOE KHAO PHANOM (อำเภอเขาพนม)

Khao Phanom Bencha National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติเขาพนมเบญจา) occupies an area of 50 square kilometres, covering Amphoe Ao Luk, Amphoe Khao Phanom and Amphoe Muang Krabi. Travel from Talat Kao junction along Si Trang road for 1 kilometre, turn left to Talat Kao-Ban Huai To road, and drive for 20 kilometres to the Khao Phanom Bencha National Park Office. The park possesses verdant forests, a high mountain range and scenic views of streams, waterfalls and caves including various kinds of wildlife.

Attractions in Khao Phanom Bencha National Park :

Namtok Huai Sade (น้ำตกห้วยสะเด) is 1.2 kilometres from the headquarters. It is a waterfall where water falls from a high cliff.

Tham Khao Phung (ถ้ำเขาผึ้ง) is 3 kilometres from the headquarters. The cave features superb stalactite and stalagmite formations shaped like a mushroom, a pagoda and curtains. It has beautiful glittering white walls.

Namtok Khlong Haeng (น้ำตกคลองแห้ง) is 10 kilometres from the Khao Phanom District Office. The 500-metre waterfall originates from Thep Bencha peak, the highest peak in Krabi.

Namtok Ton Han (น้ำตกต้นหาร) is 16 kilometres from the Khao Phanom District Office. The waterfall originates from Thep Bencha mountain range.

The park accommodates a camping site at 10 Baht a night with campers having to bring their own tents. For more information contact, Khao Phanom Bencha National Park Office, P.O. Box 26, Krabi, Amphoe Muang, Krabi 81000 or National Park Division, Royal Forestry Department, tel. 579 7223, 579 5734.

AMPHOE AO LUK (อำเภออ่าวลึก)

Than Bok Khorani National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติธารโบกขรณี) has an office at Than Bok Khorani, Tambon Ao Luk Tai, 1 kilometre from Ao Luk Nua Market along Ao Luk-Laem Sak route. It is 46 kilometres from Krabi town. The park consists of limestone mountains, verdant mangrove forests, and beautiful islands.

Major Attractions in the park include:

Than Bok Khorani (ธารโบกขรณี), a pond of emerald water in a shady forested area, is located near the park office. In the area, there is a replica of the Lord Buddha's footprint carved from wood and a shrine of Chao Pho To Yuan-To Chong.

Tham Lot Nua and Tham Lot Tai (ถ้ำลอดเหนือและถ้ำลอดใต้) is located 2 kilometres from Amphoe Ao Luk along the Ao Luk-Laem Son, then turn right to Bo Tho Pier (ท่าบ่อท่อ), ride a ferry along Tha Prang canal (คลองท่าปราง), passing through mangrove forests for 10 minutes. Tham Lot Tai is a tunnel under a limestone mountain where a natural stream runs through a small tunnel and charming stalactite and stalagmite formations are found. Tham Lot Nua is a large cave with a zigzagging tunnel. The cave is somewhat longer than Tham Lot Tai. A boat can pass through this cave only during low tide.

Tham Chao Le (ถ้ำชาวลี) is located in the west of Laem Sak in the bay where mountains and picturesque islands surround it. In the cave, there are prehistoric paintings featuring men, animals and geometric symbols including stalactite and stalagmite formations. It is assumed that the paintings may have been painted after those of Tham Phi Hua To. It is accessible by taking a ferry from Saphan Pla at Laem Sak. The trip takes 10 to 15 minutes.

Tham Phi Hua To or Tham Hua Kralok (ถ้ำผีหัวโต หรือถ้ำหัวกระโหลก) is a limestone cave in Phi Hua To Mountain that is surrounded by ponds and mangrove forests. There are 2 split paths inside the cave that can be seen from the mouth of the cave. On the left lies the shortcut to the back of the cave where sunbeams can shine through, and on the right is a path to a natural hall inside the cave. A large number of human skulls had been discovered in the cave, thus giving the cave its present name. The prehistoric paintings of men, animals and human organs including numerous seashells, can be seen in the cave. The cave is reached by taking a ferry from Bo Tho Pier for 10 minutes, along the Tham Lot Tai cave route.

Tham Song Phi Nong or Tham Pun Nua-Tai (ถ้ำสองพี่น้อง หรือถ้ำปูนเหนือ-ใต้) is in the west of Tham Phi Hua To. Inside the cave, human skeletons, earthenwares, ear ornaments, and bronze bracelets have been discovered.

Tham Hua Kalok Nai or Tham Bun Mak (ถ้ำหัวกะโหลกใน หรือถ้ำบุญมาก) is 100 metres from Tham Phi Hua To. The cave was discovered by a local man named Bunmak. Many stalagmite and stalactite formations can be seen inside. In the ground in front of the cave, numerous prehistoric earthenware with distinguished tied rope designs were discovered. The earthenware is thicker and coarser than those found elsewhere.

Tham To Luang (ถ้ำโตหลวง) is in Ban Nop, Tambon Khlong Hin. The 3-level cave features magnificent formations of stalagmites and stalactites, which are shaped like monks or serpents. It was believed that this is a home to the To Luang Spirit, thus giving such a name to the cave.

Tham Sua Noi (ถ้ำเสือน้อย) is the site of Buddhist monastery in a cave that is located 3 kilometres from Tham Hua Kalok in Ban Bo. In front of the cave is a wide cliff, which is surrounded by peaceful nature. It is a magnificent cave where earthenware was discovered during excavation.

Tham Sua Nok or Tham Thep Nimit (ถ้ำเสือนอกหรือถ้ำเทพนิมิตร) is the site of Thep Nimit Monastery. Numerous shells are imbedded in the cliff because of an undersea tunnel inside the cave. The upper level is a large dark room and 50 metres further is Tham Oraham (ถ้ำอรหันต์) that is full of stalactites and stalagmites similar to glass tubes that are more unusual and stranger than from other caves.

Khleng Chai Khao (คลองชายเขา) is similar to Ao Maya of Ko Phi Phi. Only a 5-minute boat ride separates both mouths of a cave here.

Ko Karose (เกาะกาโรส) is in the east end of Laem Sak. The island contains prehistoric paintings of men and animals on the cliff of Ao Hin Bai (อ่าวหินใบ).

Ko Thalu (เกาะทะลุ) has a 45-metre-high mountain with a 30-metre-wide hole in the middle. It has a number of swallow nests.

Ko Daeng (เกาะแดง) possesses a scenic 25-metre-long beach and a 70-metre-wide and 20-metre-tall cave.

Tham Phet or Diamond Cave (ถ้ำเพชร) is located at Mu 2, Tambon Ao Luk Nua, 3 kilometres from Au Luk Nua Market. There is a large Buddha image in front of the cave. The cave shows its beauty when the countless stalactite and stalagmite formations are reflected with light and sparkle like diamonds. A guide can be requested from Than Bok Khorani National Park. Please bring along a flashlight.

Tham Phra (ถ้ำพระ) is at Mu 4, Tambon Ao Luk Tai, 20 kilometres from the District Office.

The cave houses 3 large Buddha images, which are surrounded by small carved wooden Buddha images around their bases. There is no record to indicate when the bases were built. It is believed that these three Buddha images were built in the same period as Phra Borom That (pagoda) in Nakhon Si Thammarat by villagers who donated a sum of money to the construction of the pagoda in Nakhon Si Thammarat. Having heard of the completion of the pagoda, they allocated the contribution to the construction of the 3 Buddha images instead. It is possible that this was a true story because the Ao Luk-Pak Lao-Pak Phanom and the Tapi River were routes that people used to cross the Malayan Peninsula in ancient times.

Mu Ko Hong (หมู่เกาะห้อง) is a group of limestone islands including Ko Lao or Ko Sa Ka, Ko Lao Ream, Ko Pakka and Ko Lao La Ding. Ko Hong or Ko Lao Li Pe is the biggest island in the south. Most of them are limestone islands with fine beaches, coral reefs in both deep and shallow water, and various kinds of fish. It takes about 1 hour from Ao Nang to this island.

Camping in Than Bok Khorani National Park can be done but tourists have to bring their own tents. For more information, contact tel. (075) 681071 or the National Park Division, Royal Forestry Department, tel. 579 7223, 579 5734.

AMPHOE KHLONG THOM (อำเภอคลองท่อม)

Wat Khlong Thom Museum (พิพิธภัณฑสถานวัดคลองท่อม) is an interesting archaeological site, located in Amphoe Khlong Thom, 1 kilometre from Khlong Thom District Office, between Km. 69 and Km. 70 of Highway No. 4. The museum is located in the temple compound, featuring various kinds of artefacts that were discovered during the excavations within an area called "Khuan Luk Pat" or a bead mound behind the temple. The discoveries include stone tools, stone and earthen ornaments in the shapes of animals. The beads, in particular, are about 5,000 years old.

Namtok Hin Phoeng (น้ำตกหินเพิง) is a waterfall with a steep cliff 25 kilometres from Khlong Thom District Office at Mu 8, Ban Hin Phoeng, Tambon Khlong Phon. Drive along Phetchakasem Highway (Highway No. 4) (Krabi-Trang), turn left for 8 kilometres at Khlong Phon and you will get to the lower level of the waterfall where a levee was constructed for village usage. To see the waterfall, visitors must walk along the edge of a mountain for 400 metres to see the waterfall with a steep cliff.

Namtok Ron Khlong Thom (น้ำตกร้อนคลองท่อม) is at Ban Bang Khram-Ban Bang Tiao, around 45 kilometres from Amphoe Muang Krabi on Phetkasem Highway (Krabi-Trang). From there, take Sukhaphiban 2 Road at Khlong Thom District Office for 12 kilometres. It is one of many hot springs in the area. The temperature is not too hot at 40-50 degrees Celsius. The hot water is pushed from underground and the surrounding area is covered with a shady forest. The water converges in areas that are sloped. Some places have vapours and natural limestone deposits, making for a beautiful sight.

Khao Pra-Bang Khram Wild Life Sanctuary (เขตรักษาพันธุ์สัตว์ป่าเขาประ-บางคราม), located in Mu Ban Bang Tiao, Tambon Khlong Thom Nua, turn to Mu Ban Bang Tiao, 18 kilometres before Khlong Thom Market. This is a plain that consists of 3 crystal clear hot springs with an average temperature of 30 to 50 degrees Celsius. This area is home to rare birds like Gurney's Pitta, Rufous-colored Kingfisher and Black Hornbill, and various kinds of plants. About 800 metres from the Office of Khao Pra-Bang Kram Wildlife Sanctuary is the Khao No Chu Chi Forest Reserve Unit. It is where a 2.7 km-bush walking trail begins. For more information, contact the Office of Khao Pra-Bang Khram Wildlife Sanctuary, Mu 2 Ban Bang Tiao, Tambon Khlong Thom Nua, Amphoe Khlong Thom, Krabi.

AMPHOE KO LANTA (อำเภอเกาะลันตา)

Mu Ko Lanta National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติหมู่เกาะลันตา) covers an area of 152 square kilometres and consists of many islands of different sizes including Ko Lanta Yai, Ko Lanta Noi, Ko Ta Leng Beng, Mu Ko Ha, Mu Ko Rok, and Ko Ngai.

Attractions in Mu Ko Lanta National Park include:

Ko Lanta Yai (เกาะลันตาใหญ่) is a long beach that stretches from the north to the south. It is where the Sala Dan Pier, the focal point of the island, is located. Near the pier are tour operators, restaurants, and a bank. In the west of Ko Lanta are scenic beaches and bays including Hat Kho Kwang, Hat Lo Bara, Ao Phra Ae, Hat Khlong Khong, and Hat Khlong Nin. Travelling around the island is very convenient. A road from the north of the main pier passes beaches and the Office of Ko Lanta National Park in the south. Most of the area is mountainous and covered with verdant forests. In the east of the island lies an old community since the area was once a District Office, which is now situated on Ko Lanta Noi. The majority of the population is Muslim. At Ban Sang Ka U, the locals still practice some traditions like the Loi Rua ceremony.

A number of privately run accommodations are available. Most of them are located on the western side of the island. The suitable time to visit Ko Lanta is from June to September. Camping in the National Park can be arranged with the Office of Mu Ko Lanta National Park with advance notice. Please contact No.5, Tambon Ko Lanta Yai, Amphoe Ko Lanta, Krabi 81150, tel. (075) 629018-9 for more information.

How to get to Ko Lanta

1. Take a van from Krabi town to Ko Lanta. (boarding a motor-raft at Ban Hua Hin and then another raft at Ko Lanta Noi) The trip takes 2 hours.
2. Take a van from Krabi town to Bo Muang Pier. A ferry from Bo Muang Pier, Amphoe Khlong Thom, takes 45 minutes to Ko Lanta.

3. A boat from Chao Fa Pier, Amphoe Muang leaves at 10.00 and 13.00 for Ko Lanta. The trip takes around 2 to 3 hours.

Ko Tala Beng (เกาะตะเลเบ็ง) is a limestone island that is similar to Ko Phi Phi Le. It consists of small lovely beaches. During low tide, the cave is clearly visible. Some swallows can be seen on the island.

Mu Ko Ha (หมู่เกาะห้า) is an archipelago of five islands. Ko Ha Yai is covered with a grass field on its ridge. A sail-shaped island is located on Mu Ko Ha. Another island is where water flows through underneath and there are coral reefs found in shallow water.

Ko Rok Nai (เกาะรอกใน) is an island that is mostly steep cliffs. It offers a superb beach and unspoiled coral reefs among rocks. Laem Thong and San Chao Bay are located in the north of this island.

Ko Rok Nok (เกาะรอกนอก) is full of soft white sandy beaches and coral reefs in shallow water in the southeast and the south. Hat Thalu and Ao Man Sai are situated at the end of the island. Getting there is easy by taking a rented long tail boat from Kantang Pier, Trang. The trip takes around 3 to 4 hours. Riding a speedboat from Ko Lanta is also recommended. For more information, contact tour operators, resorts and bungalows on Ko Lanta Yai.

Ko Hai (เกาะไหง) is a small island that has a long sandy beach in the east and unspoiled coral reefs in shallow water at the beachfront. The island is accessible by taking a ferry and a chartered boat from Pak Meng Pier, Trang.

Hin Daeng (หินแดง) is a rock that is a hazard to ships. It is on the outer edge of the Andaman Sea. It offers various kinds of coral reefs, so it is a superb diving spot.

SOUVENIRS

Souvenirs of Krabi are turtle-dove cages, Toei Panan mats, shrimp paste, dried fish, and dried shrimp. They are sold in shops on Uttarakit Road.

MAJOR EVENTS & FESTIVALS

Visit Krabi and Andaman Festival (งานกระบี่เบิกฟ้าอันดามัน) is annually held to inaugurate the province's tourist season. The festival features local entertainments, traditional shows and water sports.

Loi Rua Chao Le Festival (ประเพณีลอยเรือชาวเล) is a rare festival on Ko Lanta of sea gypsies. The festival is held annually, on the full moon day in the sixth and the eleventh months of the lunar calendar. The sea gypsies on Ko Lanta and from neighbouring areas will gather at the beach near Ban Sala Dan to float boats in the sea in order to bring good luck. The Rong Ngeng (รองเง็ง), a typical southern dance as well as traditional music, will be performed around the boats.
